

Mumbai corporators clueless on residents' woes: Report

October 21, 2020 in Mumbai

While residents are normally anxious about civic points like roads, drainage, rubbish assortment and water provide, solely 34 per cent of the questions raised by metropolis councillors within the BMC come beneath classes related to individuals, Praja Foundation's 'Mumbai Municipal Councillors' Report Card' has discovered.

The variety of questions requested by councillors, and their high quality, has fallen from 2,609 in 2018 to 2,270 in 2020. Over 60 per cent councillors obtained a poor grade for the standard of questions and 13 councillors requested no questions. The BMC acquired hundreds of complaints throughout 2019-2020 primarily concerning drainage, rubbish, highway high quality, water provide, and many others. The 779 questions associated to residents' complaints made up 34 per cent of the entire questions. Roads obtained lots of consideration with 16 per cent questions. Supriya More (Congress), Manisha Rahate (NCP) and Gulnaz Quereshi (AIMIM) have not requested a single query since 2017. "Over 90 per cent councillors scored less than 50 per cent on the deliberation on civic issues. Their questions have less than 50 per cent relation with citizens' complaints," mentioned Milind Mhaske of the Praja Foundation.

The report additionally mentioned that the corporators' attendance fell to a median of 73 per cent in 2020 from 81 per cent in 2018 and 78 per cent in 2019. On the idea of attendance, variety of questions, high quality of questions and felony document, the report declared Harish Chheda from Dahisar, Nehal Shah from Hindu Colony and Anant Nar from Andheri East as prime performers. The basis mentioned that 80 per cent residents reported enchancement within the high quality of life in wards of the highest ten performers as in opposition to solely 59 per cent for the underside 10 performers.

Link:- <https://thegreaterindia.in/top-news/mumbai/mumbai-corporators-clueless-on-citizens-woes-report/>